Target Behavior: The student will either begin a staff-desired behavior or stop a staff-undesired behavior with 3 or fewer repetitions of the directive.

Need at least 4, 20-minute observations in general education and special education settings.

Each time staff ask the student to start doing something or stop doing something, write down the directive, then note the number of times staff had to repeat the direction before the student complied. If the student never complied, note the number of times the staff gave the directive, and note that he/she never complied next to that number. You may not use all the spaces provided.

Situational Analysis	Directive given by staff.	Number of times the directive was given before compliance was achieved.
